DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1,3,4,9 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ebstein et al (3970304) in view of Miller (3365196). Ebstein discloses the elements of claim 1 (fig 1), however it fails to clearly disclose the use of a rim assembly including a pair of support arms. Miller discloses the use of a rim assembly including a pair of support arms (fig 1,7). Various types of basketball rims are well known in the art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have employed the rim assembly of Miller with the apparatus of Ebstein in order to provide a more dynamic goal for the player.

As to claim 3 : Ebstein et al discloses rim assembly attachment means that is behind a plane aligned with the front surface (fig 1).

As to claim 4 : Ebstein et al discloses a frame cutout (fig 1).

As to claim 9 : See claim 1 rejection.

As to claim 11: Ebstein et al discloses a backboard support that extends below a lower portion of the backboard (fig 1).

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-23 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-27 of copending Application No. 10/737,034. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims in the application are simply broader than the patent claims and clearly "read" on the claims in the patent.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
